- Recognize what you truly are passionate about (not just what you are "good at doing") ...
What activities give you energy the more you spend time engaged in them? ... What do you find yourself so immersed in that you "lose time" (this deep engagement is often called "flow" by both creativity experts and by elite athletes)

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

- Ask trusted friends, current and former colleagues, fellow community leaders what they see as your greatest strengths ... What actions and ideas do others often compliment you on, and think is astounding in you? ...
